MESSAGE LEFT BY MAN ON TOADSTOOL

Boy Discovers Death Message in Woods But Searching Parties Find
No Trace of Suicide.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Florence, Wis., Sept. 25.—Charles Workman, a boy, looking for his father's cows at Traverse City, at dusk, has found a remarkable death message.
Those who have roamed in northern Wisconsin forests know that the dead toadstools that grow there, have leathery surfaces, almost like birch bark, and as good to write upon.
Young Workman brought in a large toadstool upon which was written:
"NOTICE—J. Allen, hereby requests that the person who finds this, notify my uncle, W. Allen, Grand Rapids, R. F. D. No. 2, of my death. That he may give Ethel Thorne my share in my father's estate. For I love her though she has drove me to this desperate deed, even though another has taken my place. This will be my last message. Soon I will have a hole through my brain. No use to look for my body."
The body has not been found by numerous searching parties.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MOTIVE QUESTIONED

Editor of "Other Side" Declares Temperance People Motives Savor of Political Ends.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 25.—Franklin Thomson, editor of "The Other Side," a publication devoted to the interests of the legitimate saloon keeper, and publisher of the state jeweler's organ as well, says the purpose of his new saloonmen's paper is no less than to "fight a ring which under the guise of promoting temperance, is endeavoring to promote a new political party of national scope." Mr. Thomson says the courts will never uphold the Indiana judge who rules that saloons, no matter how well licensed, exist entirely illegally. He questions the motives of the anti-saloon league in toto. Mr. Thomson defends the legitimate saloon-keeper, and declares that the Wisconsin Retail Liquor Dealers' Association more truly fight the legitimate and conscienceless saloon, than any other organization, no matter what its name may be.

"SHERBIE" GOING TO WRITE BOOK ON DIETZ

Milwaukee Mayor Returns From Cameron Dam Where He Obtained
Facts About "Outlaw."
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 25.—After making the first visit to John Dietz, at Cameron Dam, among all the high officials of Wisconsin and its cities, Mayor Sherman M. Becker of this city has already set plans under way to write book of 150 pages, with thirty or more illustrations, telling the facts in the famous Dietz controversy.
That the mayor has learned facts in the case which have not been printed heretofore, is a statement coming from friends who have seen the plans for the book.
Furthermore, it is asserted that the mayor will not defend Dietz, nor will he defend the boom company which fought Dietz. In fact, the book will be the first exposition of the facts in the case—unvarnished, clearly told and without fear and favor to anyone.
"There is no truth in the report," said the mayor to your correspondent, when asked on this subject of vital importance to the state, "that I am going to defend Dietz or make a hero out of him. I went up there to get the facts. Dietz is a fine fellow in his way. I was royally received, and surprised at the learning and intelligence of the man and his family. But, I am going to tell the facts all the way through the book. It's not going to be a whitewash for anyone."
That the mayor did not spare trouble and risk in going after the story of the Cameron, which he will probably caption with "The Hero of Cameron Dam," is evidenced by the fact that Mr. Becker is at this writing suffering with a severe cold, so that he can hardly speak above a whisper. The book will not be the mayor's first appearance in literature by any means, but he says he has never spent so much thought and care on anything but in the preparation of this book. Plans have been under way for a long time, it develops, but the mayor said nothing until he was on the very verge of dipping his pen into the ink to start the first chapter.

FRIGATE SARATOGA PUT UP AT AUCTION

Warship, That Made Record in Suppressing Slave Traffic and Fought in Mexican War, Sold.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 25.—The famous old frigate Saratoga, now at the League Island navy yard and which was stricken from the active list of vessels of the navy a short time ago, was put up for sale at public auction today. The vessel is one of the most famous of the old American navy. She was constructed at Portsmouth, N. H., and launched on July 25, 1842. In the years that followed she made a name for herself in the suppression of the slave traffic and in the Mexican war, and had among her commanders such famous sailors as Farragut, Shubrick and Tattnall.
She was named to commemorate the name of Commodore Perry's famous flagship Saratoga, on which he fought the battle of Lake Erie. She was larger than any ship of her class in existence at the time of her construction.

It is said that wife No. 2 sticks to him and says Desaw is all right.

ROOT'S VISIT TO MEXICO OF DIPLOMATICAL IMPORT

Secretary Of State Will Endeavor To Bring About Union Of Small Central American Republics.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—Washington expects results of an important and far-reaching character to follow the visit of Secretary of State Elihu Root to Mexico, Secretary Root, accompanied by his wife and daughter, leaves Washington this afternoon and plans to be gone several weeks. While the visit is ostensibly for the purpose of cementing the good relations between the United States and Mexico, it is understood that other questions, of even deeper significance, will be discussed by the American secretary of state and the Mexican president. It is regarded as quite probable that the condition of affairs in Central America will be an important subject of discussion, particularly the plan of President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, looking to a union of the five Central American republics into one powerful nation.
Advice from Mexico indicate that the government and people of that republic are making elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitors. The private train of President Diaz will be sent to Laredo to meet Secretary Root and his party and to convey them to the capital. The commission that will meet them at the border is composed of Ignacio Mariscal, the minister of foreign affairs; Governor Guillermo de Landay Escandon, General Pedro Rincon Gallardo, and several others of equal prominence. The Secretary of State and his family will be the guests of President Diaz at Chapultepec Castle, which has been renovated and refitted for their accommodation. The Mexican president will give a state dinner in their honor at the national palace. Foreign Minister Mariscal will also banquet them, and a state ball is on the program. The unique entertainment of the visit will be furnished by Governor Guillermo de Landay Escandon, who has arranged for a roping contest at Mexico City, in which the cowboys will show their skill.

SUPREME COURT MIXES UP WORK OF TAX COMMISSION

It Has Not The Right To Review Local Tax
Assessments—May Affect Many Land Titles.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 25.—The state tax commission has no authority to review local assessments, for the statute by which the legislature of 1905 conferred this right is unconstitutional and void. This is the effect of a decision of the supreme court in refusing to assume jurisdiction in a petition for mandamus brought by L. K. Lase of Superior for citizens of the town of Iron River, Bayfield county. The attorney general recently held in an official opinion that this statute is unconstitutional and the tax commission refused to longer act under it. Then the Iron River people sought to compel the tax commission to continue to operate under the statute and went to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus, but the supreme court will not interfere with the situation.
There may be further complications as a result of this situation. The tax commission has operated under this law for more than two years and in a number of cases has found the assessments made by the local authorities so unjust as to warrant the reassessment of the property in question. This was done in La Crosse county towns, in Wood county and other places. Now that the statute is held to be unconstitutional, there is the possibility that taxes levied under the reassessments ordered may be questioned, and in some cases lands sold for taxes under such reassessments may be the subjects of disputes concerning titles. It is possible that the supreme court will receive the question later as an appeal from a lower court, but for the present, at least the opinion of the attorney general stands.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1867.—This Evening.—The semi-monthly meeting of the common council will take place this evening.

A Degrading Business.—If those who make it a practice to stimulate dog fights in the streets have no self respect they should at least regard the feelings of those more humbly inclined. It is a degrading business at least, this dog fighting business.

Runaway.—A single team attached to a wagon used for hauling lumber took a race last evening near the railroad track and succeeded in wrecking the vehicle but did no other damage.

Likely To Recover.—We learn from Dr. Palmer that John Turner of whose terrible injury by a horse's kick we chronicled some days ago, is in a fair way to recover. This is one of the few cases where a man survives the loss of a portion of the brain.

Stop Catch.—This is a very simple but exceedingly simple invention, gotten up by Dr. C. W. Barnes of this city, for holding doors open when they are ajar and for preventing the door knob or latch from marring the wall. We have seen it in operation and find it works admirably and we predict that it will come into general use.

The Dramatic Entertainment.—The dramatic entertainment given last evening at Lippin's hall was a flattering success in every point of view. The ladies and gentlemen who took part in it acquitted themselves most admirably, their acting frequently calling out loud applause from the large audience.

Before The Footlights

"Pixley and Lunders" masterpiece, "The Burgomaster," will be the attraction at the Myers theatre, Saturday, Sept. 28, matinee and evening. The company will number 50 people. The production is an especially hand-some one. The costumes have been revived and are all new. Especial attention has been paid by Mr. Cullen to the voices of the chorus, as well as to the beauty of the feminine portion. "The Burgomaster" was the first of the Pixley and Lunders' pieces to gain popularity, others being "The Prince of Pheon," "King Dodo" and "The Grand Mogul." The music is of the singing and whistling variety.

"Before and After" the Leo Dillrichstein farce, pronounced by critics to be the best laughter play of the past decade, with a record of having amused New York for three hundred performances, and which had phenomenal runs in Berlin, London and Paris, will be at the Myers theatre, Wednesday, Sept. 25. Managers Waggoner and Kemper have sent the entire production to four exactly as originally presented, including the comedians of the famous Astor theatre company. It is said of these artists that they would make a set of by-and it is said that more copies of have interesting and amusing, and "The Tale of the Kangaroo" and "The Love Song" have been sold than of any money successful farce to work with. Other songs brought out in musical comedies, the result is an un-checked stream of laughter for the auditor. The comedy is a brilliant will introduce in the first act. It is one and has duplicated in New York entitled "There's only one street, and success in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington.

Growth of Condensed Milk.

The production of condensed milk in the United States is of comparatively recent origin. Only 8,000,000 pounds were sold in 1870. By 1880 the sale had reached 12,000,000 pounds. In 1890 as much as 37,000,000 pounds were sold. The amount sold in 1900 reached 187,000,000 pounds, and at the present time, no doubt, the production is still larger.

CORN AND BEEF

Whatever may be the shortage in the corn crop, this year, the shrinkage will more than be made good in the price, which may reach 75 cents before the season closes.

The price has already reached a point where it is more profitable to ship than to feed, and in some of the western states stock is being hurried to market that should be fed at least two or three months longer.

More or less complaint exists concerning high-priced beef, and other meats, and like everything else, the trust or combine is held responsible. No thought is given to the high prices of all kinds of food, and especially of corn, the staple food for cattle and hogs.

The only surprising thing about it is that prices have not advanced more rapidly, for they are not yet in keeping with the high prices of food.

High-priced meat is due to natural causes, and there is no chance for a decline until lower prices prevail for food. Flooding the market with half-fed cattle may result in a temporary weakness, but this will be only temporary, for a shortage in meat supplies is bound to follow, and time is required to make good this kind of a shortage.

It is an old saying that times are good when the farmer is prosperous, because he deals in products which represent now wealth, and because the nation is so largely agricultural.

Then, too, these products always represent a spot cash value. Grain in the bin today, is money in the bank tomorrow. The farmer may want to buy on time, and he may let his account run from one to three years, but when it comes to selling, that is a different proposition.

Sixty-day wheat and four-months corn, with a cash discount, is an unknown quantity, and always will be.

The new wealth that comes to this nation, comes from the soil. Forests may be destroyed and mines exhausted, but the land continues to yield its increase. The Wall Street flurry does not affect it, nor the heavy losses in stock disturb it.

The crop of 1907 is about 75 per cent of the average, but prevailing prices put it above that. This means a volume of money so well distributed as to prevent panic, and while advanced prices will contribute to the cost of living, they should be paid without complaint, for wages, and everything else, are proportionately high.

The price of corn affects the price of beef, and all other kinds of meat, but good prices for cereals stimulates all kinds of business and is a blessing to the nation. High prices with plenty of money, is infinitely better than low prices with no money.

IN A NUT-SHELL
"The A. B. C. of the railway situation lies in the fact that it costs thirteen cents more to do fifteen cents' worth of new business than it did a year ago."

"The Wall Street Journal's records for sixty-nine roads during July show that gross receipts increased over those of July, 1906, by 15.08 per cent, but that the expenses rose 19.01 per cent."

"This is a situation in which the public has direct interest. The ship-plug and travelling public insist on greater and better facilities, along with lower rates."

"Increasing volume of business is inevitable in a country growing so rapidly as ours. But the mischief of the matter comes in forcibly reducing the revenue at a time when outlays are the most urgent in order to meet growing necessities.

"There can be only one consequence from this, if it is persisted in. The point must ultimately be reached, if it has not already been reached in some cases, beyond which it does not pay to take new business, because the increased expense is greater than the gain."

"Then nobody can be forced to take business at a loss because it would be confectory. The loss will fall back upon the manufacturer who has to make less goods, upon the laborer who has less employment, upon the investor who gets lower dividends, the bank lower interest, and the farmer lower prices—all because some people insisted under cover of law in reducing the strength of railroad industry at a time when its burdens were already greater than it could conveniently bear."

"This is the kind of talk that the country needs. There is nothing sensational about it, for it is based on facts gathered from statistics which no man can question."

"When it costs more to handle new business, than the revenue derived, it represents a losing game, he it railroad, or any other kind of business."

"It is always easy to go with the tide, and not only easy, but very popular, these days, to denounce railroads and corporations generally."

"This spirit of criticism prevails to such an extent that when a paper has the temerity to discuss the other side of the question, it is accused of being a paid emissary of corporations."

"Someone asked, the other day, 'How much is the Gazette paid for defending railroads?' Not a dollar, either in favor or money."

"The press of the country should be conservative and fair, in dealing with all questions of public policy. Public sentiment is always strong, but not always right. The cry of 'stop this!' will assemble a crowd on the street, on short notice, and a mob is easily incited to deeds of violence."

"If the press joins in this hue and cry, it adds fuel to the flame because of publicity. While the press does not create public sentiment, to any large extent, it frequently crystallizes it for either good or evil. This fact is so often demonstrated that it needs no argument."

"It applies not only to public measures but to men in public life. A case in point, just now, is Vice President Fairbanks, who applies to be a candidate for the presidency next year."

"The Colliers commenced a campaign of ridicule against him some months ago, and today he is caricatured, all over the country, as a lean, lank, over-fatigued gentleman, totally unfit for the high office to which he aspires. An injustice has been done Mr. Fairbanks by the press, from which he will never recover."

"There are many radical, so-called, reform measures, which are popular today, that will lose their popularity in the list of experiences which have already commenced to develop, and prominent among them is the much-discussed railroad question."

Janesville people do not want to forget that an interurban from Madison to Stoughton means a serious delay in a road from Madison to Janesville. If the Stoughton franchise is granted it will be many a long day before the road is built on to Janesville.

There is a limit to all businesses but the man who sits back and fails to take advantage of the market by advertising his wares finds out his mistake when the short run a little paper on his front door and puts the key to his store in his pocket.

This talk about the people demanding such and such a man for a public office is all right in theory, but it is usually the man himself who makes the demand upon the people and uses all means in his power to further his ends.

Roosevelt is to start for Louisiana for a bear hunt and all the bears in the state are being brought into the range of his guns if possible. However, there are a few bears on the stock exchange in New Orleans that will escape.

This is the season that makes the straw hat period look like a shadow of the dim past. The winter overcoat is turning over the moth balls and the moths are making ready for a winter campaign in the summer dresses.

It is said that the land steals in Colorado will reach men high up. Well, the Oregon one did and nothing stopped Uncle Sam, even when a congressman and a United States Senator were affected.

It has been discovered the Indians of the early part of the past century were clamorers. Well, that is not funny as there have been people so hungry within the past few years that they have eaten carp.

For a backward season Wisconsin has done fairly well in many lines of farm products. However, the price of corn continues to soar on the Chicago stock exchange.

When one reads of the countless men of Texas it is with envy, but still Texas would like a little less heat in the middle of their summer when we are countless and comfortable.

Why the system of building houses without grades was originated is unknown but the fashion has come and the people grin and suffer in consequence.

California is still lying dormant, but the searching after the guilty in San Francisco is not being allowed to lapse even by time.

The railroad commission is very busy these days deciding just what is what. When they get through the supreme court takes a hand and decides what is what under the law.

Talk about the weather if you like, but the coal bills will start very soon to become a permanent institution in every household.

The North-Western road is rushing work on its new roundhouse in the yards and it may be ready for the engines long before the yards are.

The Tribune still continues to put forth feelers as to the Presidential situation and thus far it looks like Taft. But—one can never tell.

Now the season of the church supper is to begin.

So football is again engrossing the attention of the college youths.

PRESS COMMENT.

But One Much to Be Wished
Exclamation: It would indeed be a come down if the women were to adopt the low heel said to be fashion's latest decree.

Fashion's New Dictum
La Crosse Leader-Press: It's all right for women to make herself "straight-front and curveless," but what is the man with an ineradicable bay-window to do?

Oleo's Hour Approaching
Madison Democrat: The Superior Telegram sees the dawn of the fat-butter era. Will some one please take up the cause of the old bacon-and-drippings delirium?

'Twill Be Good Reading But—
Menasha Record: If it is true that Tom Lawson is going to finance the La Follette presidential boom, just light shy of the stock market how fine the prospectus may appear.

Let's All Get Into the Gamel
Green Bay Gazette: The hotel men of the state have decided to raise their rates. At the rate the rates are being raised in all other lines it will soon be up to the newspapers to start something.

Frollicking with Fairbanks
Racine Journal: To enliven the closing days of summer that Indianapolis cocktail story is dished up every day, this time with Bishop Henry denying he ever made any statement that the president was responsible.

Skeleton Was in Poor Company
El Paso Herald: A found dog and a woman gave a dinner and had a skeleton from Mexico seated at the end of the table. It is a good guess that the skeleton had more brains than any of the others present and that he was ashamed of his company.

Won't but of Course He Could
Green Bay Gazette: Newspaper letter writers in Europe are trying to get President Roosevelt to stop gambling at Monte Carlo. It is not a question of whether Roosevelt could do it if he tried, but only a question of whether he will tackle it.

There's a Difference in Methods
El Paso Herald: A Wisconsin man bought some green goods. The time he went to Milwaukee and then went and told the police and got into the papers. A Texan would have kept his mouth shut till he had a chance to pass the stuff along to somebody from Kansas.

Heartless Old King Leo
Chicago Examiner: King Leopold is now attempting to sidetrack the American arbitration plan at The Hague. Leopold cares nothing about the ending of war, but he fears that an arbitration board might disturb his graft in the Congo. Rather than that he would gladly see most of the human race slaughtered.

Concluding Inference Proves It
Chicago Record-Herald: A New York philosopher declares that brains are not needed for thinking and that a bold forehead is no sign of intellectual strength. To prove his point he says that the forehead of the child is proverbially bold and prominent and that women generally have higher, bolder foreheads than men. There is no denying that he is a bold philosopher.

Move About a Little
The Youth's Companion: There is something impressive in the story of a lifetime of persistent toil. But there is another point of view which deserves respect. The gadabout may be a useless member of society, but the stay-at-home is likely to be a narrow one. We find ourselves on this little planet, with its oceans and wide prairies. We know not whence we came nor if we shall ever pass this way again. Surely we may do our best better in our own appointed place if we look about the world, feed our minds with the glories of nature and discover how men and women before us have lived their lives and embodied their aspirations in the great arts of building and painting and sculpture. The wheat field and the ledger and the roasting stove are facts of human life; but so are the Colosseum Cathedral, the Sistine Madonna, the Canadian Rockies and the Valley of the Yellowstone.

FROST NIPS TOBACCO AROUND BRODHEAD

Small Portion of Crop Caught in Field by Freeze—Growers Busy Getting In Crop.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brodhead, Wis., Sept. 25.—There has been a wonderful hustle in tobacco fields the past few days to shed out standing crops. Quite a number of growers finished but there were some who had half of their crop out and this was badly frozen last night. It will be turned under for fertilizer. Owing to the peculiar season the tobacco crop has been very backward and not until the warm weather of a few weeks since did it make a rapid growth. If the crop could have had two weeks more of fine weather the crop in general would have been a fine one. There is lots of good tobacco as it is.

THE OLDEST THEATRE IN WISCONSIN.

An extract from the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald, Sunday, September 22, '07, concerning

BEFORE AND AFTER

At Myers Theatre
This Evening

"One hundred laughs in 100 minutes has been a catch line for many so-called comedies in the advertisements of the versatile press agents, but it was never more thoroughly made good than in this laughing success of Leo Dietrichstein's 'Before and After,' which was given two presentations at Power's Theatre yesterday to two capacity houses by a splendid company headed by Mr. Dietrichstein himself. It is only to be regretted that the engagement was so brief, as it is not in the least stretching the truth to say that the performances were easily the most thoroughly enjoyable Grand Rapids theatre-goers have had in many months."

I can vouch for the above notice and the attraction should be greeted by a capacity house. It is up to the theatre-goers of Janesville if I shall continue to furnish high class attractions. The box office tells the story.

No Better Time

As never before THE BIG STORE is prepared for an army of buyers. For months we have been planning the FALL and WINTER CAMPAIGN. We own a stock of merchandise not only the largest and most complete we have ever shown, but we placed orders months ago, made liberal contracts with the largest manufacturers and leading importers, and the PRICES at which we bought goods were MUCH LOWER than today's figures. We buy in LARGE QUANTITIES and have opportunities to see lines of goods that are NOT SHOWN to other merchants in Janesville, in fact to but few in Wisconsin, as they cannot buy LARGE enough quantities. The result is, "We Keep The Quality Up" but DO NOT have to raise the prices ABOVE what other merchants HAVE TO GET for qualities NOT AS GOOD. Our large and constantly increasing trade proves that people appreciate QUALITY.

Our stocks of the following goods are in excellent shape: Silks, Dress Goods, Velvets, Gloves, Mittens, Hosiery, Laces, Trimmings, Knit Goods, Underwear, Shawls, Corsets, Flannelettes, Outings, Gingham, Percales, Prints, Dress Linens, Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Yarns, Batting, Sheetings, Blankets, Comforts, Curtains, Embroideries, Linings, Oilcloth, Carpets, Rugs, Linoleum, Furs, Ready-to-wear Garments, Linens for fancy work, Fancy Linen Pieces for every occasion. Such an enormous, well selected stock should surely arrest the attention of every citizen.

Why go to the larger cities and PAY MORE for merchandise?

You can save money by choosing Dr. Richards to do your dentistry.

Not long since mention was made of a party who came here from Shullsburg, Wis., to have Dr. Richards do the work, and after paying it, it cost him both ways.

Saved $10 on the dental bill from what the home dentist wanted to charge.

Now comes a party from another neighboring town for a lot of gold bridge-work and after Dr. Richards fairly and squarely set his price.

It was revealed that he was $25 under what the home dentist wanted to charge for the job.

Of course in getting the work to do, he guaranteed his work to be of the very highest quality.

FIFIELD CASE IS TO BE TRIED HERE

Winifred Fifield's Suit Against Milwaukee Street Railway Appeal Decision.

While the appeal of the Milwaukee Street railway on a decision of Judge Fifield in the suit brought by Winifred Fifield against the defendant company for twenty-five thousand dollars damages has been discussed from the supreme court on a stipulation the following appears in the list of court decisions rendered yesterday:

"Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company vs. Fifield: Motion for a writ of certiorari denied."

The defendant company claimed that the service had not been properly made upon its officers and as the limitation of one year was nearly up at time of service the circuit court decision which sustained the service was important. The case will now be tried in the circuit court.

Norcross Dam Suit

The supreme court also denied the motion for a rehearing of the writ of mandamus in the suit brought by the state of Wisconsin against Pliny Norcross in an action relative to the Indian Ford Dam. The writ was granted by the circuit court on the grounds that the state had shown no cause for action but was reversed by the supreme court. The motion for a rehearing is denied and fifteen dollars' costs taxed to Norcross.

HE IS PLAYWRIGHT ACTOR AND PRODUCER

Some Facts About Leo Dittichstein Cleaned from a Conversation with Him in Hotel Lobby This Noon.

Leo Dittichstein, who has been writing, acting, and producing plays for sixteen years, arrived here with his company this morning and will be seen in the farce-comedy, "Before and After," at the Myers theatre tonight. Mr. Dittichstein's activity has long been confined to New York and the other large cities that he needs some sort of an introduction to a large portion of the local theatregoers. He is the author of "Are You a Million?" which was a big success about ten years ago and is still on the road. "All an Account of Ellen," "The Song of the Sword," in which E. H. Sothern played four years ago. He also wrote "Victor's Papa" and was co-star with Blanche Ring in the piece four years ago; collaborated with Clyde Fitch in the production of "The Head of the Family" for William H. Crane, the piece called "Goodbye" for Mrs. Langtry, and "Harriet's Honeymoon" for Mary Manning. A dozen other plays of equal renown are from his pen and he is now preparing a new one which he will present in New York on October 1. The company appeared in Grand Rapids, Mich., Sunday night, in South Bend, Ind., Monday night, and in Rockford last night. The present road trip will carry them to Galveston, Texas. Personally, Mr. Dittichstein is a man of very pleasant address who finds his first trip west of Chicago interesting and likes to talk politics and the lore of his farm near Stamford, Conn.

ABORIGINES FED ON THE CLAMS FREELY

Halver Skavlen One Of A Party To Unclose Old Storage Houses Near Koshkonong.

The Milwaukee Free Press prints the following interesting item relative to recent discoveries made by Halver Skavlen of this city. Chas. E. Brown, Prof. B. Stout of Madison at Lake Koshkonong.

"For two years they have been surveying the Indian trails, village sites, provision pits and mounds surrounding the lake. There are over 500 mounds, more than anywhere else in so small a space. Fifty mounds, representing the remains of the tribes, linear mounds, the sites of the wigwags and burial mounds are all found at Koshkonong in an exceptional state of preservation and beauty.

"These mounds range from 1,500 years old to those of more recent date. The party located the Winnebago village in which White Crow, who acted as scout for Gen. Dodge in Black Hawk's war, lived. It is at present the home of the Carleton club on the lake shore.

"In one of the provision pits, about 100 years old, which was opened, the party of archaeologists found thousands of clam shells, many honey-combed with age, proving that the aborigines ate these clams. Also, bear and deer bones, the jawbone of a pickered, cherry pits still preserved and fragments of pottery.

"These discoveries are valuable. The archaeologists believe that when the full report is published it will be the most valuable of any report on work done in Wisconsin."

OLD TENNESSEANS THROUGH NASHVILLE

HOME-COMERS HEAR ADDRESS
BY GOV. FOLK, OF MISSOURI.

SEES NEW ERA FOR SOUTH

Industrial Progress Has Created the Child-Labor Evil Which, He Says, Must Be Eradicated.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Tennessee home-comers thronged the state fair grounds Tuesday afternoon to hear Gov. Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, himself a native Tennessean. The address was delivered before a crowd of 20,000 persons, and aroused much enthusiasm.

Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, delivered the welcoming address and Gov. Folk responded, saying:

"Occasions such as this emphasize how closely the states of this union are joined together in blood and interests, for when Tennessee says 'Come home,' the response comes from Missouri, Texas, Arkansas, and a score of other states. And the states of the American union are now one family, united by the ties of kinship and interest and the achievements of one are the common glory of all."

Awakening of the South.

The governor then named the distinguished sons Tennessee had given to the world, and sketched briefly the career of each. Continuing, he said:

"But the spirit that inspired those who have gone before is with us yet and their ideals are guiding us now."

"In this marvelous industrial activity Tennessee and the south are but on the threshold of progress. With the completion of the Panama canal, new markets will be opened up to the products of farm and of mine, and of factory. As in other parts of the country, the increase in transportation facilities here has not kept pace with the tremendous growth of commerce. Additional avenues of transportation must be found. With the Mississippi deepened, the Missouri improved and the Tennessee, with its tributaries, opened up, the entire valley of the Mississippi will throbb with new activity."

Child Labor Scored.

"The new day brings its problems that must be worked out with those of yesterday yet unsolved. God and the people of the south alone can bring about a solution of the negro question, but the factories springing up like magic on every hand have created a new problem to you that can be solved—child labor. Particularly is it incumbent on the people of Tennessee and the south to see that this evil is eradicated because the child labor in these factories is particularly all white, and that means the lowering of the standard of citizenship in the years to come, if it is allowed to go on."

"It is not a question for you alone, but for every manufacturing state in this union engaged in combating this enemy of civilization. Too often unthinking people condemn the south for the existence of some wrong while in other parts of the country the wrong alone is condemned. It is the evil that should be attacked, not the people, whether it be the north or the south."

BANKERS OF AMERICA MEET

CONVENTION OF ASSOCIATION
AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Trust Company and Savings Bank
Sections Hold Preliminary Sessions and Elect Officers.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 25.—Bankers from all sections of the country are in this city to attend the annual convention of the American Bankers' association, which begins here Wednesday. The sectional meetings were held Tuesday, when those branches devoted to trust companies, savings banks and clearing houses met and discussed matters pertaining to banking.

The section on clearing houses held a brief session and the matters discussed were purely of a technical character and devoted to clearances. The sections on trust companies and savings banks held extended sessions and a number of papers were read and discussed. Prior to adjournment the sections elected officers.

At the afternoon session of the trust companies section a resolution was adopted pledging the members to endeavor to secure legislation which will prohibit the indiscriminate use of the word "trust" as applied to banking institutions. The resolution was presented by Benjamin I. Cohen of Portland, Ore.

The afternoon session of the savings bank section was devoted to a discussion of the papers read at the morning session. The subject which attracted the most attention was that on "Postal Savings Banks." As the result of the debate the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, that a committee be appointed who shall investigate the question of postal savings banks in limited territory; the desirability of a government savings bank commission, and recommend to the executive committee of this body such action as is deemed proper to promote the usefulness and safety of postal savings institutions."

PRAISE ROOSEVELT; WANT TAFT NEXT

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS HOLD
CONVENTION IN LINCOLN.

FEATURES OF PLATFORM

Democrats Also Announce Their Policy, Which Is Formulated by Bryan—Rap at the Secretary of War.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 25.—Under the new state-wide direct primary law Tuesday was the day designated for all political parties represented on the primary ballot to hold their state platform conventions. Of the five parties, the Republicans, Democrats and Populists gathered in considerable numbers. The Prohibitionists held no convention, and the Socialists were without representation, save for one delegate, who certified to a platform and organization with the secretary of state.

The Republican convention, which was most largely attended, was primarily a business meeting with little oratory.

Indorse Roosevelt and Taft. An unqualified indorsement of President Roosevelt's administration and leadership is given in the Republican platform. A continuation of his policy is insisted on and a reference to Secretary Taft is made as follows: "While not presuming to forecast the action of any future convention, we express the belief that the Republicans of Nebraska recognize in Hon. William Taft, of Ohio, one whose personal character and whose long public service mark him as preeminently the man under whose leadership these policies would be perpetuated."

The platform declares the Republican party of the state committed to the following reforms which it has inaugurated: A state wide direct primary, abolition of free pass evil, comprehensive powers for the state railway commission, more equitable rates for transportation of passengers and freight, rural taxation of railway property for city purposes, abolition of fellow-servant law, and full employers' liability.

Dryan Takes Rap at Taft.

The feature of the Democratic convention was the speech of W. J. Bryan. He congratulated the party, state and national, on having emerged from the valley of the shadow of death, which, he said the Republicans, hopelessly divided, were just entering. He insisted that the title of "great post-mortem" belonged to Secretary Taft, because while he favored tariff reform, he was obliged by the party pressure, to advocate putting off the day of action.

Mr. Bryan assisted in drafting the platform, and its declarations are assumed to reflect his views of what the national party declarations should be in 1908.

FOLK LOSES MUCH BACK PAY.

Judge Kinsey Finds St. Louis Owes Him $2,052.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—Decision was rendered Tuesday by Circuit Judge Kinsey in the suit of Gov. Folk to obtain back salary at the rate of $5,000 a year, which he contended was due him for his term as circuit attorney. The decision holds that as circuit attorney the salary due Gov. Folk should be rated at $4,000.

Under the decision Gov. Folk will receive in back pay from the city of St. Louis $2,052.36, instead of $5,833, for which he sued. During the time of office of Circuit Attorney Folk the salary was increased from $4,000 annually to $5,000 by the legislature. City Counselor Bates decided that the circuit attorney could not profit by an act raising the salary of the office during his incumbency. Folk refused to accept any of his salary therefor and later filed suit to recover back salary at the increased figure.

STEAMER JAPAN IS SAFE.

Captain Reports Her in Shelter at Grand Marais, Mich.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 25.—The Anchor line steamer Japan was reported by her captain at 10:30 Tuesday morning as being in shelter at Grand Marais, Mich.

Rumors had been current that the Japan with her crew and passengers was lost in Lake Superior west of White Fish Point, where the steamer Alexander Nimbleck was wrecked Saturday night with a loss of six lives. The Japan arrived at Grand Marais, at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning and is probably still in shelter there.

The Allan received a telegram from Fame Point Tuesday saying that the Mongolian was returning to Quebec, accompanied by the Huron, and that both boats are badly damaged.
